

Andechs Biers

- $6 -

Andechs - Vollbier Firm, fine poured head; aroma is pure & fresh, with soft malty accents imbued with floral hoppiness. Light and soft body leaves a pleasant, tangy taste. Mild sweetness marries with velvety bitterness of the hops. It concludes on a rounded, harmonious note. Prost!

Andechs Fest Lager Unique premium Pilsner with a slightly tart taste. Top quality ingredients produce exquisite character, crisp, light bodied with high carbonation. If you like hops, you'll love this beer. 4.8% ABV 17 IBU.

Andechs Weiss Light honey color with opalescence & fine structure of the yeast turbidity is an eyecatcher with a creamy, fine poured head. Fruity aromas like banana & honeydew melon come to the fore, followed by fine cloves. A very tangy, refreshing treat which concludes on a finely balanced play of light sweet honey & a delicate acidity with undertones of bitter hoppiness that quickly subside into a harmonious aftertaste.

5.5% ABV IBU N/A

Dinkelacker Oktoberfest A German golden amber Marzen with a clear, malty taste & an aroma of caramel&honey. It has good balance with medium body and an emphasis on malt. 5.5% ABV 18 IBU

Festive Wines

FROM GERMANY

THE WHITES

1. Lausbus (The Rascal) Herrenberg - $6
Fruity fresh & lots of flavor! Peach & apricots followed by tropical fruit. A great blend of Sauvignon Blanc, Müller-Thurgau & Auxerrois grapes. Semi-dry.

2. Chardonnay Pfalz Herrenberg Winzer - $6
An outstanding "cold climate" Chardonnay. Not aged in oak! Brilliantly fresh, elegant, great flavor, mild & yummy. Dry.

THE REDS

3. Dornfelder Herxheim Winzer - $7
The famous red wine grape from Germany. Deep purple color, intense cherry & blackberry flavor. Aged in oak but smooth and low in acidity. Dry.

4. Acolon Herxheim Winzer - $7
Rated as the best new German red wine grape. Similar to a Cabernet. Dark purple, deep flavor of blackberry & plum. Aged in oak but smooth. Dry.

SPARKLING

5. Rosecco Sparkling Rose, Bergkeller - $7
100% Pinot Noir Prosecco. A fruity, fresh, fun sparkling wine with great berry flavors. Not too dry, not too sweet. Organically grown.
